

AMMOOZE™

It's Slime Time!

With Ammooze, ViscoTech™ are bringing yet another groundbreaking materials advance to market.

Our cutting-edge biological control measures offer law-enforcement agencies and authorised private contractors¹ four new non-lethal² methods for apprehending felons without risking harm to themselves³ or their target⁴. Enquire today!

OZ-01: Vertichor™

Our flagship product, Vertichor, is based on the iconic 'green slime' (Fuligo Vertigrade). Each round is packed full of specially-treated, bio-engineered mucus capsules suspended in a brine. On contact, the payload is exposed to air and the mucus rapidly develops into a thick, sticky gel.

A few hits to the extremities will slow foes to a halt and the liquid will soon harden into a cement-like shell. Do make sure to avoid airways to preserve its non-lethal designation. Use our specially-formulated solvent to remove this product.

OZ-02: Hexacomb™

These six-sided rounds repurpose the bizarre hives of the 'honey ooze' (Stemonitis Apis). On impact they erupt into bright orange nodes. With six nodes, a resinous hexagon forms. The target is then bound to follow any simple, self-preserving orders until the constellation hardens and shatters, around five minutes.

OZ-03: Grotwain™

We studied slime's natural self-replicating biodefence and reverse engineered it to produce an effect which is both consistent with the laws of thermodynamics and highly practical.

Facing something a little daunting? Split it with Grotwain™. Sure, now you're facing two of them, but at least they're half the size! Get enough hits in, and soon only your shins will be at risk. The effect starts to wear off after about an hour, as the constituent parts of the being are inexorably drawn back together. Try not to get in the way.

OZ-04: Punchdrunk™

A merry solution to many problems, these rounds are effectively ranged narcotics. Drawing on the intoxicating properties of the 'fruit jelly' (Diachea Fructus), each round dissipates on impact into an ambrosial ether. This soaks through clothes and armour, rapidly delivering the equivalent of four stiff drinks. We all know how it goes from there.